

Certification in Humanitarian Medical Logistics Practices (MedLog)

Fritz Institute Scholarship Application Form 2011

Introduction

Fritz Institute is pleased to announce the 2011 Scholarships for the Humanitarian Logistics Certification Program (HLCP). This year we will award ten (10) enrollment fee scholarships for the Certification in Humanitarian Medical Logistics Practices (MedLog) course.

Individuals who intend to fund their own participation in the course are eligible to apply for these scholarships. You do not need to be employed as a logistician with a humanitarian organization when you apply. However, to be eligible you must have at least one year's experience in a logistics or medical function with a humanitarian organization to be considered.

Please download the application form and return it, completed, by email to info@fritzinstitute.org, no later than midnight, GMT, 15 October, 2011.

Along with a peer group of HLCP graduates, Fritz Institute will evaluate all applications received by the deadline and notify recipients the week of 19 December, 2011.

As a reminder, all submitted applications are the property of Fritz Institute on behalf of its humanitarian partners. Applicants acknowledge and give permission for their name and that of their organization to be published by Fritz Institute and its partners as part of its publicizing activities for the HLCP. Applicants also acknowledge and give permission for the Fritz Institute to share their applications with interested parties.

Additional information about MedLog is available on the Fritz Institute website (www.fritzinstitute.org). With questions about either the courses or the scholarship program, please contact info@fritzinstitute.org.

Thank you for your interest in MedLog and, more importantly, for your interest in better supporting people in need!

The Humanitarian Logistics Certification Program is offered in partnership with CILT (UK) and the Logistics Learning Alliance
